Two new models from the tripod innovators at Velbon: Ultra Luxi-L and Ultra Luxi-M

The ideal traveller's companions, these new compact Velbon tripods can be taken anywhere.

Velbon tripods are the recognised leaders in high-quality tripod design. Their light weight makes them the perfect accessory for keen photographers out on the road.

Velbon have just released two new models: the Ultra Luxi-L and the slightly smaller Ultra Luxi-M. Both tripods are ideal for travelling expeditions as they have a unique trunnion leg design. The tripod legs are clip-free, giving each leg the ability to be extended or collapsed in one twist action. This useful feature enables the tripods to fold down, compress and be taken anywhere.

Both models safely support camera loads of up to 2kg and the angle and height of each leg is independently adjustable, making taking photos on rough and uneven terrain a breeze. They feature a 3-way panhead for accurate image composition on vertical and horizontal planes. An extra-low position is also achievable when the centre column is detached.

Using a high-quality tripod can dramatically improve your pictures by reducing camera shake, allowing low-light situations to be photographed and aiding good composition.

Velbon tripods unleash many creative photo opportunities – blur-free night scenes and macro close-ups, sharper telephoto landscape images. A Velbon tripod is one of the most useful photographic accessories.
